Analytical and Consulting Chemists

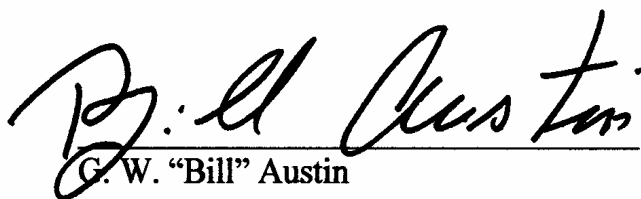

“highest quality”

Charles Edwards and his construction company, The Gainsborough Group, Inc., has been our “contractor of choice” since our first use of his firm over twelve years ago. He has fully filled the unique and extensive remodeling needs of the professional offices of our physician tenants as well as our own medical laboratory’s varied requirements.

We have found his work to be of the highest quality and completion has always been on time and usually ahead of schedule. His fixed fee system has proven to be so simple and economical that we no longer find it necessary to request outside bids on our jobs.

His finest attribute however is that he is completely honest and trustworthy. His word is truly his bond.
